DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-15, drawn to a laundry machine apparatus, classified in class 68, subclass 12.08.
- II. Claims 16-26 and 34-37, drawn to an apparatus for washing and drying, classified in class 68, subclass 12.13.
- III. Claims 27-33, drawn to a laundry cleaning device, classified in class 68, subclass 12.23.
- IV. Claims 38-46 and 47-56, drawn to a process for controlling washing cycles/operating, classified in class 8, subclass 158.
- V. Claims 57-62, drawn to a method of manufacturing a laundry cleaning device, classified in class 134, subclass 25.4.
- VI. Claims 63-69, drawn to a process of a program control routine, classified in class 134, subclass 18.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II, and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination of Group I has separate utility such as working as a laundry machine without washing operations or fluid recovery requirements, unlike Group II and works without requirement of a controller, unlike Group III. Group II requires washing, as well as drying, and fluid recovery, unlike Groups I and III. Group III requires a control device, unlike Groups I and II. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions of Groups I-III and IV-VI are related as apparatus and process for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e). In this case Group IV requires a washing cycle, unlike Group I; does not require fluid recovery, unlike Group II; and does not require a controller, unlike Group III. Group V requires fluid recovery, unlike Group I; does not require washing, unlike Group II; and does not require a controller, unlike Group III. Group VI requires a washing cycle, unlike Group I; does not require fluid recovery, unlike Group II; and does not require a controller, unlike Group III.

Inventions IV, V, and VI are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because subcombination of Group IV has separate utility such as a requirement for providing control parameters for substantially optimizing time and energy usage of the washing and drying cycles for a home application, unlike Groups V and VI. Group V requires manufacturing of said apparatus by positioning a cooling device along an air-exhaust passageway or a cleaning fluid recovery system to recover cleaning fluid, unlike Groups IV and VI. Group VI requires a controller, unlike Groups I and II.
